LUDHIANA, MAY 26

A beauty contest organised by the Krishna Breast Cancer Care Charitable Trust turned out to be unique as the participants were screened for breast cancer.

It was the seventh free of cost breast cancer screening camp held at Nagpal Regency for the members of the Nirarika Ladies Club here yesterday.

At the contest various tips for periodic self-examination were given for the early detection and treatment of the deadly disease.

Noted oncologists from the Dayanand Medical College and Hospital (DMCH), including Dr D.S. Sandhu and Dr G.S. Brar, conducted the checkup, along with the supporting staff.

Brar made an interactive and high-tech presentation on the causes of breast cancer and educated women on the self-examination techniques. Sandhu focused on the symptoms and available treatment modalities of the disease.

Members of the club responded enthusiastically to the activities at the camp, as free ECG, blood test and physical examination was conducted on more than 70 women.

Chief cardiologist at Hero DMC Heart Institute Dr G.S. Winder offered heart-related counselling and guided the members on general health care and needed life style changes. Highlights of the camp was a beauty contest, in which all members, dressed in white, showcased the grace and talent.

In the 35-year-old category, the crown went to Navraj Gill and runners-up position was jointly claimed by Sweety and Manjit Gill. In the below 35-year category, the winner was Dolly Takkar with Gagan claiming the runner-up position.

The camp concluded with a vote of thanks and presentation of mementoes to the doctors and entire team of the DMCH by the president and secretary of the club, Balu Sehgal and Shabeen Rang, respectively, on behalf of the club members.

The president of the club expressed her gratitude to trustee of the trust Sanjeet Anora, while lauding the efforts put in by the body for creating awareness for breast cancer. The trust creates awareness about the disease by giving lectures, conducting free checkup camps across Punjab and providing medical assistance to the needy.
